

Morningside Teachers' Academy
21st Annual
Summer School Institute
July 11 - 22, 2011

Attend Weeks 1 & 2

The Morningside Model of Generative Instruction (MMGI) has been developed over the last 30 years and has a track record of improving the academic performance of children, adolescents, and adults in over 100 locations. MMGI has developed classroom practices based on scientific research in psychology and education, combining well-designed instructional materials, with researched-based procedures for instruction, and focused practice to fluency. The Summer School Institute is the perfect opportunity to both hear and see these methodologies in action.

Learn the fundamentals of instruction, practice and application in reading, writing & math. Become familiar with counting, charting and analyzing behavior using the Standard Celeration Chart. Attendees who are present for both weeks will be placed in a classroom and receive coaching during the Morningside Academy Summer School for children. Those attending one week will be able to observe in the classrooms.

Graduate Students will attend a 3rd week, July 26 - 30

The 3rd week will include additional classroom experience & seminars.
